

Titanium Industries Medical Display

Titanium Industries produces metals for a wide range of markets and an even wider range of applications. This exhibit space for their medical division seeks to reflect the myriad ways in which titanium — both the metal and company — touches the world of medicine. It pursues the client's latest branding objectives, portraying an image that's clean, contemporary and engaging.