

Pearson Nursing Portal

The Pearson Nursing Portal represented a major new initiative for Pearson's Health Sciences division. Page2 advised on all aspects of the website's development — content structure, navigation, functionality and more — in addition to handling its design in full. This project came with the added challenge of being the first Pearson website to be developed using the company's new worldwide branding strategy. < view live >